

CONCEPT STUDIO di STUDIO

Studio di Studio is a wine/laboratory, it's the sum of experimentations, test, challenges, attempts, hopes which are behind the concept and the vision of a great wine.

Studio, son of a blend with majority share of Trebbiano and little integration of Garganega, as well as stated by the same name, has been thought and created to be a moving wine, faithful to its roots but never repeated or repetitive.

So Studio di Studio it represents the backstage and, from the vintage 2013, we have decided to put in the bottle the result of these experiments. We believe that giving a concrete form to the word experimentation, helps to better understand the genesis and the enological course of a wine.

So each vintage of Studio will also see the appearance of few bottles of Studio di Studio that, like a reflection in the mirror, will represent its evolution in a row and a undisciplined form.

As the Studio's back label says:

Studying is not to stop, as well as studying is exploring new limits.

And it's according to this spirit that Ca' Rugate intends to continue its way.
