

CONCEPT BUCCIATO

Sometimes we need to revisit the past in order to look to the future; the memory is a treasure trove of experiences from which to draw inspiration for new paths down which to travel.

We have waited twelve long years before approving another release of our iconic Bucciato. At the close of the 2005 vintage we always hoped we could restore this historic wine to its rightful place in the Ca' Rugate legend.

Finally, after years of experimentation, 2017 provided us with perfectly mature garganega grapes and we knew it was time to liberate this wine once more.

The final piece of the jigsaw was to age the wine in small ceramic barrels, made for us by a Ligurian artisan.

The design on the label, inspired by an ancient press at the Ca' Rugate museum, is the inspired work of Annalisa Bollini, a young and talented Italian illustrator.

Thank you for trusting.
